

Eyesight (6) – Image processing

Image processing

- ◆ Image processing generates concepts that can be interpreted by the brain. Most of it is based on perception of patterns and expectation.
- ◆ These allow to provide stability in moving images and when we move wrt images.
- ◆ Optical illusions are usually bad activations of patterns or expectations.

Muller-Lyon Illusion

Ponzo illusion